Weblinks While the document is being developed, its content may require drastic changes. It can be assembled into single document out of several sections. Some pages, paragraphs and sections may be modified, rewritten, moved or copied into a separate document. With Master PDF Editor you can preform these tasks effortlessly. Split PDF Files Splitting a PDF document is extracting some of its pages into a new PDF file with some new filename. This section explains splitting PDF files in detail. Extracting pages from one document and saving them to another To split a PDF document onto two or more parts and save them as separate documents, use the Document > Extract pages menu or press Ctrl+Shift+E. The following window appears: Here, you can specify which pages of the current document you want to extract and save under a new name. The Filename box allows you to specify or browse for a file to save the extracted pages to. The Page Range section determines what pages are extracted. Extract pages as a single file - if enabled, this option extracts all the selected pages as one PDF document. Otherwise, each page is saved as an individual document. Export bookmarks - if there are some bookmarks pointing to the specified pages, those bookmarks are exported too. Delete pages after extracting - this option removes the extracted pages from the original document effectively splitting the PDF document onto two (or more): the extracted one(s) and the original document save for the extracted pages. This cannot be undone. Click OK to extract pages. Note: extracting of pages from some PDF files may be restricted by their owners. Merge PDF Files This function allows to merge and systematize multiple separate PDF documents in a single file. Merge using the Insert pages tool To merge two or more PDF documents into one, click the Document > Insert pages menu or click Ctrl+Shift+I. The Insert Pages dialog opens. Here you can browse for all PDF files you want to assemble into one single document. Click the Add Files or the Add Folder button to add a specific PDF or image file(s) or the entire contents of a folder to the below list. In the list, rearrange the added PDF files in the order their contents must follow in the final document by using the Up and Down buttons. For each document, you may specify a page range to import from that document by clicking the Page Range button. Set the position where all the selected documents and pages should be inserted. The Import Bookmarks option transfers bookmarks associated with the imported pages too. Click OK to import pages. Master PDF Editor will open the specified documents and import the given pages to the current document from them inserting them to the position you have set. With version 7.0 of our PDF software 7-PDF Split & Merge, we have added two additional tabs for convenient rotation and extraction of your PDF pages. Rotate and split in general, or individually for each PDF according to freely definable page ranges. For example, you can rotate your PDF by specifying a page range of 2-6,12-24,27,29,35-. The last "-" character in the defined page range automatically rotates or extracts all pages from the 35th page to the last. Simply double-click in the table column "Page ranges" and you are ready to go. See for yourself and download version 7 right now. A detailed description of the new functions "Rotate" and "Extract" can be found in the manual. Version 6.0 turns on the turbo when splitting and merging your PDFs! We have added a PDF Booster to 7-PDF Split & Merge in version 6.0, because especially the splitting of PDFs is twice as fast as before. An increase of a whopping 200% compared to previous versions. In addition, the new version uses even fewer resources than before. We have been able to reduce the required RAM by a factor of 10 (!), and despite this reduction in resources, we can still process larger PDF files than ever before. Who knows what we have in mind for version 7.0... Until then, have fun with version 6!
